TWO LOVERS GREW WEARY OF LIFE AND SO QUIT IT.

Not Feeling Sure of Any One Menns of Beath for the Public-Both Had Taken Polson.

St. Louis, April 12,-Louis Frank and Miss Kate Kolb, lovers, who lived in this city, died in a horrible manner before daylight this morning, the man being the murderer and suicide by agreement. Their bodies were found lying side by side on Jacob Duffy's farm, a few miles west of the city on the Walton road.

In the right hand of the man was a revolver, and each was shot through the heart. The tragedy was discovered by Charles Taylor, a gardener. Miss Kolb, a beautiful young woman lay stretched upon the ground with her throat cut. Blood was still flowing from the wound. By her side was the body of Frank.

He was lying almost face downward, with his right arm thrown across the body of the woman. His throat was also cut. The knife, covered with blood, lay on the ground. Near the bodies was an empty box labelled "Rat Poison." The woman's hat lay crushed on the ground. Pinned to a ribbon was this note:

April 9-We have both decided to die together, and if one or the other should happen to recover the other shall not be held responsible for the deed. We both are going to take poison, and I will do the shooting. We are not doing this on account of any love affair, but simply because we do not want to live any This is all we have to say, and hope there will be no trouble. We remain as ever, " Mr. Louis FRANK,

THE JAPANESE IN HAWAII. They Are Mostly Contract Laborers and

Under the Constitution Are Not Citizens.

WASHINGTON, April 12.-No fear is expressed here that the Japanese Government may insist upon more equal political privileges being exended to her subjects in Hawaii than they now enjoy. While the number of Japanese in the islands is relatively large-22,000 or more—the convention under which they were sent to Hawaii gives them no political rights whatever. They are in fact contract laborers, and, so far as can be learned, few, if any, of the number have a desire to remain permanently in the country. The convention under which they remain in Hawaii was framed in 1886, and will expire three years hence. It may be renewed again or not, as both parties desire. The Japanese as laborers have proved very satisfuc-tory in the sugar fields of Hawaii, and their presence in the islands, therefore, is desired by the sugar fields of Hawaii, and their presence in the islands, therefore, is desired by the planters.

The Hawaiian Constitution, which was promulgated on July 4, 1894, provides that no alien shall be admitted to cltizenship, except such as shall understandingly read, write, and speak the English language, who shall be of good moral character and not a refugee from justice, and who shall possess property in the republic to the value of $200. The Constitution further provides that the right to vote for Representatives in Congress shall be enjoyed only by those who understand thoroughly the English or Hawaiian language, while the privilege of voting for Senstors shall be grained only to persons having not only the foregoing knowledge, but who shall possess personal property valued at not less than $3,000, or shall also have actually received a money income of net less than $600 during the preceding year. These qualifications would, it is said, effectually disbar the Japanese laborers now in the islands from the right of suffrage, even though they desired it, inasmuch as their wages are small, and few, if any, speak either of the languages required, or feel any desires to do so. The only Japanese, it is asserted, who may ever seek the advantage of the suffrage will be the merchants, who do not number at the present time one hundred all told, and who are not likely at any time in the near future to see not likely at any time in the near future to sufficiently numerous to wield any political

A FARMER ROBBED BY BURGLARS. Felled with a Club and His Wife Made to Tell Where the Money Was,

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., April 12.-At about midnight last night three masked burglars entered the house of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Pitts, who reside on a farm in a thickly settled community near Russell, a few miles south of this city. They are each about 65 years of age, and living with them is a young man who works on the farm. While not rich, they are known to, at times, have considerable money in the house.

The burglars after gaining an entrance to the house chloroformed the young man before the old people were aware of their presence. When they entered the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Pitts they demanded to know where their money was kept. Mr. Pitts woulding tell them, but attempted to get up, and was felled to the floor by a club in the hands of one of the masked men. Mrs. Pitts was bound and gagged so she could not call for assistance.

She was then tied to the bed and oil poured over herself and the clothing. The men then told her that unless she revealed to them the place to find their money they would set fire to the clothes.

They found it to the amount of about $80. They made further threats in hopes of learning the hiding place of more money. But there was nothing further for the old lady to tell, and they finally left without releasing her or doing anything for the restoration of her husband or the young man.

Mr. Pitts finally recovered sufficiently to realize the situation. He released his wife, who was uninjured, and was able to care for his wounds.

Together they succeeded in bringing the hired man to consciousness, and to-day they are all about as well as usual. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Pitts has been able to give any information which might lead to the detection of the criminals.

Drowned While Returning from a Whist

DUNKIRK, April 11.-Mrs. William Hall, wife of a prominent and wealthy resident of Sinclairville, this county, was drowned in Mill creek in that village last evening. She was driving home from a whist party with her little son. While crossing a bridge the horse was frightened and backed down a thirty-five foot embankment. Several persons witnessed the accident and went to the rescue, and when they drew Mrs. Hall from the creek she was dead. Her son was seriously injured.

TEMPLE EMANU-EL'S JUBILEE. The Jewish Congregation Celebrating Its

Fiftieth Anniversary. The congregation of the Temple Emanu-El began the celebration of its golden Jubilee yesterday afternoon. The congregation met fifty years ago at Grand and Clinton streets. It worhipped successively in Chrystle street and East Twelfth street before removing to the temple at fifth avenue and Forty-third street in the year

The temple was beautifully decorated for the celebration. Around its pillars were entwined palms and evergreens, while all around the building there was a wealth of rare flowers and plants. Suspended from the roof was a floral design which bore the inscription:

The Stars and Stripes were displayed outside the church.

The feast of the Passover is being celebrated at this time, and the usual religious service was held at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. Joseph Silverman gave the opening prayer, Then the choir, under the direction of Frank Van der Stucken, sang a hymn, Rabbi Gustav Gotthell made a brief address.

He reminded the congregation that they were celebrating the feast, of the Passover, as well as their fiftieth anniversary.

Progress, enlightenment, the deepening and the widening of the moral sense, and the expansion of the great principles of our ancient fath, so as to make them worthy of our advancement. We have all reason to rejoice because, with all our love of advancement, the old sturdy faithfulness to the Jowish faith has suffered no diminution. This is still the Jewish house of God. We are all Jews, and Jews we shall remain, so belong to the people of God's covenant, the people of the Book, shall remain our brethren, no matter what disgrace, no matter what disgrace, no matter what disgrace no matter what infamy the ancient spirit of persecution may attach to them." Dr. Gothell thanked the congregation for the support they had given him in times of trouble and expressed his heartfelt joy at being able to take part in the anniversary they were celebrating.

At 10 o'clock to day the regular service will celebrating.

At 10 o'clock to day the regular service will be held and Dr. Silverman will make an address. The chief celebration will be at 8 P. M., when there will be addresses by the Rev. Dr. Kohler. Gottheil, and Silverman of this city. Dr. Krauskopf of Philadelphia, and President Lewis May, who will give a history of the congregation from its beginning until the present time.

All the male members of the congregation All the male members of the congregation was requested to appear in evening dress. An orchestra of fifty instruments and a mixed chorus of fifty vinces will render a special programme of sacred music. Admission to this service will be by ticket.

The children's celebration will be on Sunday at 10 A. M., when there will be a procession.

WHISKEY TRUST REORGANIZATION. A Bill Filed in Court Asking for the For-mai Sale of the Property. CHICAGO, April 12.- The first decided step in the plans of the reorganization committee of the Whiskey Trust was taken this aftertioon when, in its behalf, Gen. McNulta was ap pointed receiver with extended powers, and with instructions to bring about a judgment sale of the property of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding Company. It is said that the sale will be made at an early day; that the property will be made at an early day; that the property will be bought in by the reorganization committee, and that new stock will be issued by them and dealt out in pro rata shares.

The bill filed to-day was signed by Otto Gresham, son of the United States Secretary of State, as special counsel, and had upon its face as plaintiffs the names of Stephen D. Bayer and Hugo Blumenthal of New York city and D. C. Bennett of Albany, N. Y. It recites the history of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding Company, which, it says, was doing a business of $50,000,000 annually and had paid $0,118,808 in dividends up to the first of last February, since which no dividends have been declared. It tells of the actions of ex-President Greenhut and the directors, and says that at present it is without a quorum of directors and cannot transact business; that if new directors were elected they would be nowerless to act without possession of the property, which is already held by a receiver.

The main object of the bill was to bring about which announced their intention of retiring from the Trust. He says he will meet the low prices they are making wherever found, no mat-ter what they are. This he believes to be the only way they can be brought to terms. By this method of procedure he hopes to have them surrender and cry enough in a very short time.

Steinborn's Sons Claim That Estate in Germany.

"As the train arrived enthusiastic hurrahs were given in honor of Washington, Monroe, Ilberty. North America, and the republic of Venezuela—a greeting from Caracas to the first nation of this continent, represented by its sons. Upon the appearance of the officers on the platform, in their modest uniforms, artificial firsworks were burned, and a great shout of joy, like a popular hymn, greeted them.

Faine's celery compound makes people well—not only worr out, enfecthed men and women of mature age, but young persons whose slighter powers have been overtaxed by excitement or immoderate work without proper intervals for rest and repair.

Paine's celery compound has played a most important part in the lives of thousands of young people in every section of this country. Many whose nervous systems had been so stimulated as to unfit them utterly for study, it has made vigorous and strong enough to ably bear the burden of coming years. One fireman was killed, another will probably die before mora-ing, and four others were slightly injured.

REPORTS FROM CUBA. No Truth in the Story of a Declaration o

Independence, HAVANA, April 12.—The reports circulated in the United States that a meeting of the insurgent leaders would be held in Gustnaro, in the Province of Puerto Principe, on April 10 for the purpose of promulgating formally adeclara-tion of independence were erroneous. No such convention has been held, nor is it known in well-informed circles that a meeting of the character described was intended. The reports evidently had no firmer basis than passing rumor.

Maily visitors called yesterday at the home of Mr. J. S. T. Stranakan in Union street, Brooklyn, to inquire about his condition. While assured that he was not so seriously ill as had been represented, there was no attempt made to conceat the fact that his illness, which has now extended over a period of soveral weeks, had reached a critical stage. Dr. H. C. Turner, the attendant physician, said that his patient was very weak, but that there was no immediate danger. Mrs. Stranahan and Mr. Fitch Stranahan, Mr. Stranahan's son by his first wife, are also invalids.

The Great Activity in Oil.

Pirresnungu, April 12. As an indication of the activity in the hunt for oil, it may be said that there were 1.401 new wells drilling and rice in course of construction on April 1, as rigs in course of construction on April 1, as against a monthly average of 232 last year. It is estimated that about $6,000,000 as being expended in new work in all the fields. This being a holiday there were no dealings in oil to-day. It is predicted that prices will open higher to-morrow than they closed on Thursday.

NATIONAL GUARD NOTES.

At the dedication of the Washington Memorial Arch on April 30 the First and Second brigades will be formed into a division under the command of Brig-Gen, Louis Fitzgerald. Brig-Gen, McLeer will have the right of line, commanding the Second Brigade, while the First Brigade, under the command of Col William Seward of the Ninth Regiment, will have the left. On the left of the First Brigade will be seen the First Naval Battallon, under Commander Miller. The head of the column will rest at Forty-second street and Fifth avenue, and will be drawn up in line and inspected by the Governor before moving. The line, it is anticipated, will reach from Forty-second street to Seventy-sixth street. The troops must be on the ground and ready to move at 9:30 P.M. The review-ing stand will be erected at the north side of the arch. The troops will march under the arch and then be dismissed. Squadron A will act as escort to the Gov-ernor, and the First Signal Corps will be the escort to Gen. Fitzgerald.

The event in the Twenty-second Regiment at pres ent is the Easter Monday review and reception to be held at the armory, April 15. Gen. Louis Fitzgerald will review and will be accompanied by his staff. The regiment will parade for annual inspection and muster on May 10.

General Inspector of Rifle Practice Whitlock, always alive to the interests of his department, will this season introduce at Creedmoor some new targets which, it is expected will prove a great advantage over the old ones. The new targets are to have a black background, while the bull's-eye and rings outlining the several divisions are to be white. The old buil's-eye was black, as were the rings, while the di-visions of the target were white. Experiments in the army have resulted to the advantage of the new

The latest order in the Twelfth Regiment, dated April 0, affords considerable amusement. It an-nounces that Col. Dowd will be at the armory Sunday evening. April 14, to hear appeals from deliaquent members from sentences imposed by the regimental court. This will be news to Col. Dowd, who invariably attends church in Orange on Sunday evenings, and the change will hardly be looked upon with favor. The members of Gov. Morton's staff are to embellish their uniforms for the parade in this city on April 30 by having a line of gold lace one and a half inches wide put on the side of their trousers. Adjt-Gen. McAlpin, it is stated on good authority, is further to distinguish himself from his fellow comrades by appearing with a pair of gold epaulets. In the manufacture of these, it is said, the usual substance has been discarded and genuine gold used as much as Next Thursday night the "Fighting Fourteenth."

Col. Michell commanding, will hold a review in its armory. Brig. Gen. James McLeer will receive the honors, which will be followed by the usual parade and reception. The State decorations for long and faithful service will be presented during the evening.

The Non-commissioned Officers' Association of the Thirteenth Begiment will hold a dinner in the arm on Monday night next. An attempt will be made to make the affair an annual institution of the regiment. The last review of the regiment will be held on the evening of April 23. Gen. Miles, U. S. A., will receive the honors, and a presentation of marksmanship dec-orations will be a feature of the evening. The fact that this occasion will mark the thirty-fourth anni-

POND'S EXTRACT CO. 76 Fifth Av., New York,

LOOK TO YOUR FIRE ESCAPES,

Strict Enforcement of the Law Promised by the New Superintendent of Buildings.

Stevenson Constable, the new Superintendent of Buildings, has issued the following warning mregard to fire escapes;

To regard to fire escapes;

To the Citizens and Property Owners of the City of New York:

Feeling that the gross violations and almost criminal indifference on the part of property owners throughout the city as regards the laws requiring the erection and maintenance of fire escapes have been in great part due to the very evident neglect of the Department of Buildings to enforce these laws in the past, and that with the force at my disposal it will require months of persistent effort to eradicate this evil, I feel it my duty, both to the public and to myself, upon assuming the responsibilities of this department, in whose authority is vested the enforcement of these laws, to aunounce that it is my purpose and my determination to require in the future a strict adherence in all particulars to the safectuards provided by legislation, and in necessary cases to enforce the severe penalties attached to any refusal or neglect to comply with these laws.

The laws relating to the construction and maintenance of fire secapes will be found in sections its 35 and 30 of chauter 275 of the

with these laws.

The laws relating to the construction and maintenance of fire escapes will be found in sections 34, 35, and 36 of chapter 275 of the laws of 1892, and apply, in brief, to dwelling houses occupied by three or more families above the first story; to buildings more than three stories in height used as hotels or lodging houses; to boarding houses having more than fifteen sleening rooms above the basement; to factories, mills, assiums, and institutions for the care or treatment of individuals; to buildings used in whole or in part as schools or as places of inin whole or in part as schools or as places of in-struction or assembly; to office buildings five or more stories in height, and to theatres and places of public amusement. Lawyer Frank Moss was in court as counsel for Appo. Rein testified that Appo had cut him in the arm, but that he had not noticed it until the next morning. His jacket and shirt sleeve were cut through. Mr. Moss asked that the case be adjourned till next Tucaday.

"We have not been able to subpens any of our witnesses," said he. "Threats were made to our agent, Mr. Burr, when he and Appo were trying to hunt up a witness in Wunderlich's saloon. Some men in the saloon said they would out Appo's heart out if he ever came around there again."

Justice Taintor granted the adjournment of the case till Tucsday.

The Rev. Dr. Marris Resigns. 777 The Rev. Dr. Thomas Harris, who for twentyfive years has been the rector of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church, on Washington avenue, between 170th and 171st streets, has rethe Hudson. Dr. Harris will make the change about June 1. Several reasons have been assigned for his retirement from St. Paul's, one of which is said to be the hostile feeling exhibited toward him by certain members of his congregation, but Dr. Harris has announced that his sole reason for the change was that his health has been failing of late. Because of this he decided to go to Beachwood. The Rev. Dr. Harris has been Secretary of the diocese of New York for the last eight years, during which time his necessarily close association with Bishop Potter has developed a warm friendship between the two.
